512 Labarthe, André S. and Jacques Rivette. " 'Renoir le patron': propos de Jean Renoir," Cahiers du Cinéma (Paris), no. 186 (January), pp. 22-27.

"Jean Renoir le patron" was a program in the television series "Cinéastes de notre temps" and was produced by Labarthe and Rivette. With Renoir they visited a number of the locations for his films and recorded a succession of interviews like the one published here. There is not much here that one has not read elsewhere, as Renoir talks of the collaborative role of the spectator in completing a good film (something producers do not realize), and of the work of art as one of the most important means of combatting the greatest dissatisfaction of modern life, boredom.
