The story, told in flashback, is about a stage producer Kewal with a miserable past. His childhood playmate Nimmi is to be his principal heroine and partner in his ambition and adventure of life. Her parents move to another town and he is separated from the girl and he loses his inspiration. He meets Nirmala, his heroine in college drama but she also goes away. His imagination takes him to a double of Nimmi and a rich artist Ranjan. Ranjan reveals his passion for the dry-heart Nimmi. Furious with shock, Kewal burns himself. Nimmi on seeing his half burnt face leaves him. When the flash back ends we see the nuptial chamber of a married couple—the groom Kewal is pleasantly surprised to find his bride is none else but Nimmi, the playmate of his childhood.
