

Document Citation

|               |                                     |
|---------------|-------------------------------------|
| Title         | City lights                  |
| Author(s)     | Andrew McKay                        |
| Source        | Publisher name not available |
| Date          |                                     |
| Type          | synopsis                            |
| Language      | English                             |
| Pagination    |                                     |
| No. of Pages  | 1                                   |
| Subjects      |                                     |
| Film Subjects | City lights, Chaplin, Charlie, 1931 |

CITY LIGHTS. 81 min. Silent. Three years after Hollywood went with "talkies," Charlie Chaplin made a "silent" with a synchronized musical sound track concerning a tramp who rubs elbows with a drunken millionaire and a blind flower girl. Directed by Charlie Chaplin. 1931.

WARNING: This material may be protected by copyright law (Title 17 U.S. Code)