LOVE-STARVED WOMEN FOUND ON PLANET!

One of the "Fire Maidens" who has dedicated her life to love. Herewith is shocking and scientific fury as disclosed by Professor McGill. Photos printed here are by permission of the Mount Wilson Observatory.

SCIENTISTS CLAIM 13TH MOON OF JUPITER INHABITED

According to Professor McGill, well known inter-planetary scientist, there is a definite possibility of life on the 13th moon of Jupiter. The savant, when questioned regarding his findings stated: "In all probability the planet is inhabited by women." Then he added speculatively, "if this is true—they must be love starved."

A giant 300 inch telescope has brought the planet so startlingly close it is now possible to observe manifestations that heretofore were unknown. This is the fact that spurred a major motion picture company to embark on their production, "Love Maidens of Outer Space."

HUNDREDS OF MAIDENS AND ONLY FOUR MEN AND A MONSTER

The story revolves around scientific information and depicts suspense never before shown on the giant screen. Imagine a planet ruled by seductive sirens—love hungry girls who have never set eyes on mortal men before. This provocative picture leaves nothing to the imagination. As one scientist puts it: "Being chased by women is okay, but there is a limit there too. All you've got to do is say hello or look at them and you've got yourself another wife."

MONSTER IS ONLY PERIL

The black monster, which lives on the blood of the fire maidens, is the only peril on the forbidden planet. Bombs and bullets have little effect on this fiendish monster. Seeing is believing . . . It could happen and it does. See gorgeous and revealing fire maidens do their exotic sacrifice to man. Visit the land of blazing meteors, flaming dove, shooting stars. See "Love Maidens of Outer Space."

"PICTURES THAT

ARE LOVE MAIDENS A FACT? ARE FLYING SAUCERS A REALITY?

For generations now, scientists have been probing space for the answer to life on other planets. According to one of them, Professor Ormond McGill when we make our first voyage to outer space, in all probability we will encounter a planet of women. "The answer to this strange phenomena," McGill asserts, "is due undoubtedly to atmospheric conditions rendering the female hormones much stronger and making it possible for them to survive." McGill stated further that he believes the males (if any) could be used occasionally for propagation. However, he adds, "Once the propagation of the female clan has been accomplished, the male would be destroyed."

It is these interesting and unusual facts that prompted Hollywood to film FIRE (love) MAIDENS OF OUTER SPACE.

Another portion of this interesting theatre-fare is, ATTACK OF THE FLYING SAUCERS, (the facts behind the story of flying saucers.) Two of the most exciting sequences in this picture are: 1. A mock attack of an American city as seen from the FLYING SAUCER'S point of view. 2. Actual films—the only ones known to exist that are authentic—of flying saucers. NOW for the first time you can learn the truth behind the Pentagon's desire to keep all this material CLASSIFIED. SEE ATTACK OF THE FLYING SAUCERS. Learn the TRUTH.

THIRD PICTURE DEALS IN FATE & DESTINY

According to Josef Ranald, the man who has read the hands of practically every known personality in the world, "If you have certain markings in your hand, you are destined for certain things."

The mark of MURDER is always found in the hands of all criminally insane. "Dictators too!" Ranald adds.

(SEE AD IN MIDDLE OF PAGE QUESTION FOR THIS MARK)

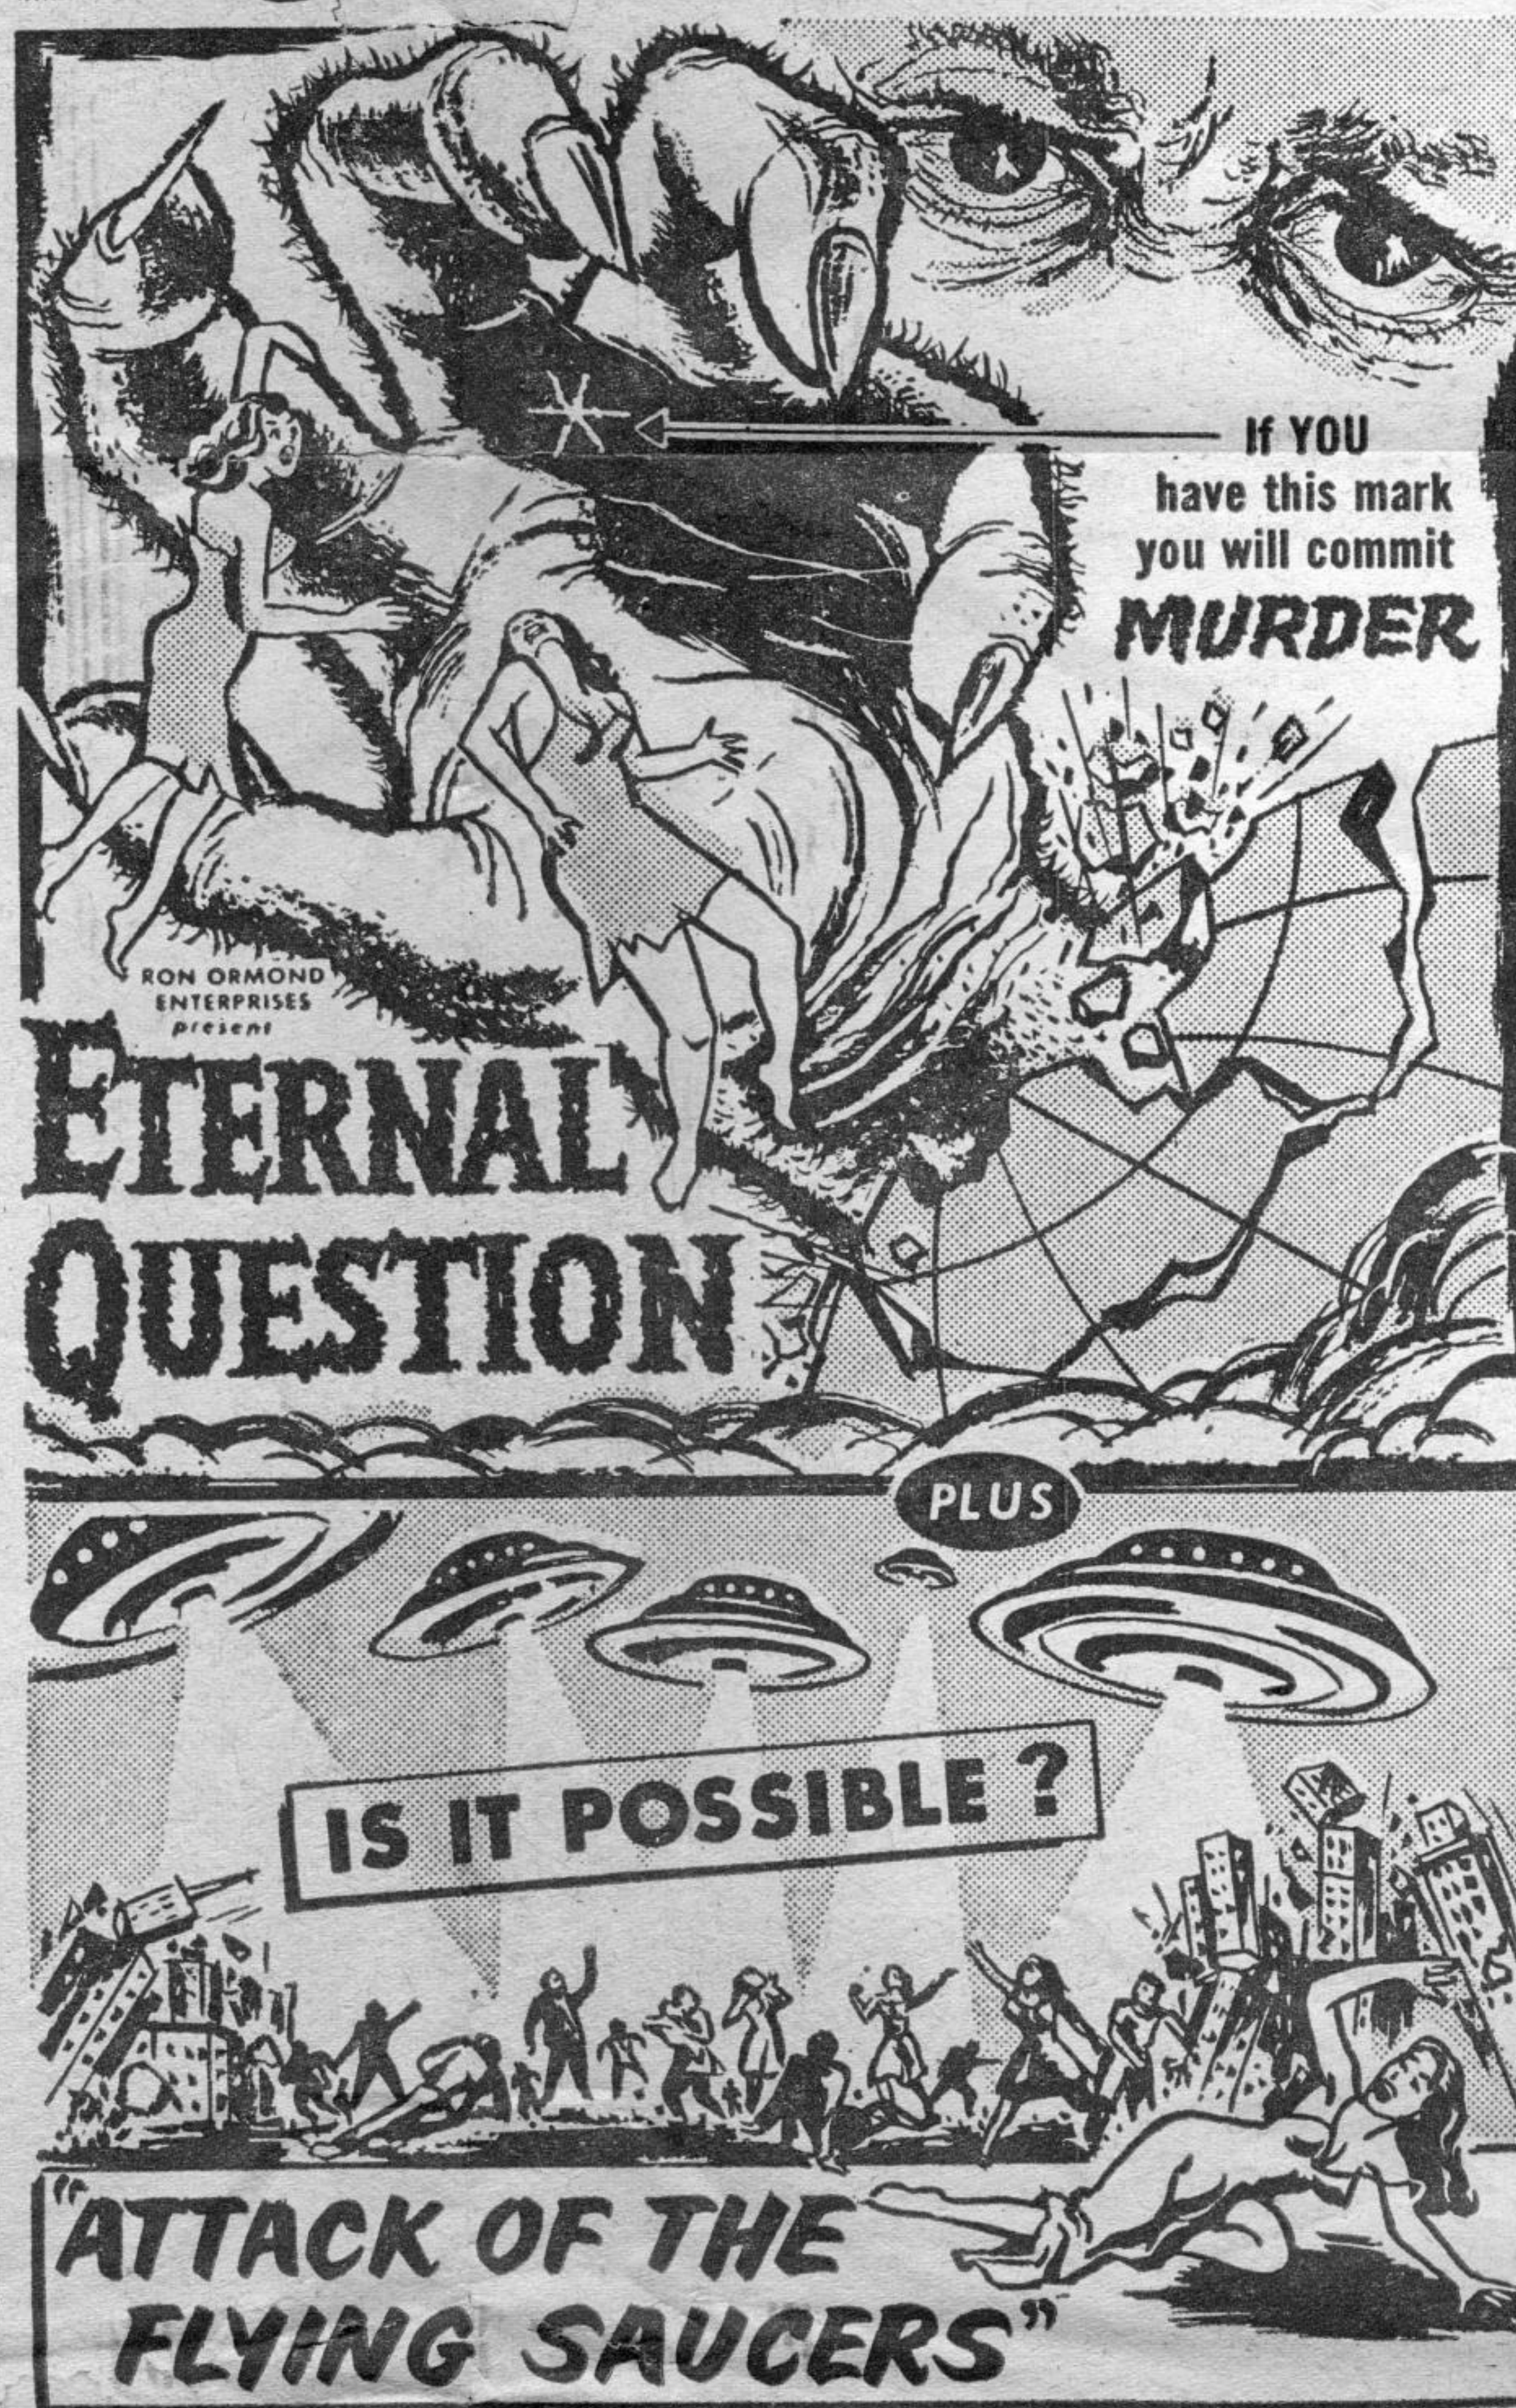

This renown hand analyst has conferred or has been a confidant to such people as Franklin D. Roosevelt, Winston Churchill, the infamous Adolph Hitler and just about all of the important stars in Hollywood including Clark Gable, James Stewart, Joan Crawford, James Cagney, Barbara Stanwyck and many others. WHY did these people seek out this ONE MAN above all others. There must be an answer. You'll learn it in ETERNAL QUESTION. (Now check your HANDS . . . DO YOU have the MARK of MURDER?)

SHOCKING DISCLOSURES of world violence and the depths which individuals can sink will combine terror and amazement when you see "ETERNAL QUESTION."

Synopsis

Five young scientists, technicians, and space experts set out in space for the newly discovered planet satellite of Jupiter, the 13th Moon. The trip through space is hazardous, yet they manage to reach the satellite and find themselves in the power of a force more deadly than earth men could ever devise. The satellite is shaped like the earth, has the same atmosphere, flowers, greens, seasons, and also the dangers that lurk in far off places. Here on this planet dwells a CREATURE who menaces all life, who cannot be destroyed. Here also on this planet behind the rocky fastness and security of solid cliffs dwell the descendants of the long lost continent of Atlantis. A patriarch and his fifteen lovely, gorgeous daughters. Our five young scientists find themselves in the midst of a battle for life and death, and they fight for their very lives. Along with the deadly struggle, runs the gamut of a strong love between the beautiful HESTIA, Princess of Atlantis, and our young expedition leader, LUTHER BLAIR.

Production

The writer, producer and director of this feature conceived the idea of a picture having all of the advanced technological aspects of our modern world, of going beyond our modern world to outer space. But where scientists and other dreamers have foreseen tragedy and horror, and have written in terrifying language of the unsurmountable problems of outer space travel and of the probable inhabitants of other space planets, the author saw only the good things that could possibly happen while at the same time bringing to light the yet-unravelled mystery of what happened to the LOST CONTINENT OF ATLANTIS and its people. So the cast and crew entered into the making of this picture with a verve and elation not found in the usual course of movie making. The author and director imbued the cast and crew with his spirit of having a good time making a picture.

The entire picture was produced at the British Studios of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Company in Boreham Wood, a suburb of London, England. That is, with one exception, wherein the production company spent several days at the Mill Hill Observatory in Hertfordshire shooting technical preparatory scenes with the kind permission and cooperation of Her Majesty's Royal Astronomical Society to get authentic backgrounds and vital technical aid and advice.

Publicity

Anthony Dexter

Anthony Dexter was selected from thousands of eager applicants to portray the starring role of the greatest lover the American screen has ever seen... Valentino. But Dexter is more than a mimic. He has his own personality and a long experience on the American stage and famous stock companies. He has become a household word in the Latin American countries and in Europe where his fans actually travelled over two hours by railway and bus to get to London just to get his autograph. Here is a man well at home with the motion picture company's crew and also at home with the diplomatic corps in London. His recent credits include starring roles at Columbia and other major studios.

Susan Shaw

Susan Shaw was picked for the starring woman's role in "Fire Maiden of Outer Space" because of her wide popularity in England and for her beauty. Here is a girl whose face and figure compares favorably with Hollywood's best actresses and she has a beautiful speaking voice. But to top it all, she is a fine and accomplished actress, happily married to a fine actor well known in America, Bonar Colleano.

Paul Carpenter

Paul Carpenter is Canadian by birth. A former star hockey player participating in several Olympic hockey battles; he turned to sports announcing which led quite naturally into news announcing, became one of the top BBC staff, and this led into radio dramatics, and then English repertory, and the motion picture industry where he has made a name for himself as a leading actor.

Jacqueline Curtis

Jacqueline Curtis, a small, dark-haired beauty was plucked from the stage at the famous Churchill's night club of New Bond Street in the heart of London where she starred in a theatrical revue. An expert dancer of modern rhythm and also ballet, her appearance is a refreshing new face to the American audience as well as the British audience.

The rest of the cast is rounded out with Sidney Tafler, a world known character actor who adds light, fine comedy touch to his role; Harry Fowler, brings his wonderful droll comedy timing to add flavor to his role. Maya Koumani, premiere danseuse with the former Russian ballet added her grace and charm to the picture. Last, but not least, the gorgeous "Fire Maidens" giving you every type of English beauty with their gracious personality.

Cy Roth

The writer, producer, director Cy Roth, has added another picture to his constantly growing list of pictures. His last picture, AIR STRIKE, a naval aviation drama was made with the approval of the United States Department of Defense and Department of the Navy aboard a combat aircraft carrier, the Essex. Before that, Columbia Studios released the gripping, sensational box office champion in a Korean war drama "Combat Squad" starring John Ireland. And when Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. heard he was in London, he was immediately signed to direct a television picture for Sir Douglas' company Douglas Fairbanks Presents sponsored by Rheingold Beer and enjoying the top rating in anthology series.
