Ashes and Diamonds

ASHES
AND THE DIAMOND

*"When blazing flames burst out of you, as from a burning torch,
You cannot know if you'll be free, or if all that's thine is lost.
You cannot know if only ASH will be left from all that fire,
Or if may be, at the bottom of it — of ASH — will lie a DIAMOND."*

Cyprjan Norwid, 1821-1883

The Film Library acknowledges with cordial thanks the help of the Polish Embassy in making possible the presentation of the New York premiere of Ashes and The Diamond, and of the series, Ten Post-War Polish Films, of which it is a part. The Film Library wishes also to thank Mr. Edward Harrison, Mr. Jay Frankel of MJP Enterprises, and Mr. Nicholas Napoli of Artkino Pictures, for their cooperation in making available some of the films in this series.

Four feature films in the series—Kanal, Partings, Answer to Violence and Ashes and The Diamond—are being given their first public showing in New York at the Museum of Modern Art. The exhibition will extend from May 18 through June 11, at 3:00 and 5:30 p.m. The schedule is on the last page.
