Lecture with slides by Gero Gandert followed by a showing of the original version.

Gero Gandert is one of the foremost German film historians whose research concentrates on the early German silent film. He has rediscovered numerous documents which considerably modify the prevailing views on this important era of German film. The copy Mr. Gandert will show and which he is bringing from Berlin, is taken from the original negative and is different from all the other copies in circulation. It contains f.i. the famous expressionist stylized German intertitles.

(The intertitles will be translated.)
